Brief of the Project

Bangkok is the capital of Kingdom of Thailand. Established in 21 April 1782 (same date as Rome but different age). The city carries itself through the time of political and cultural scenary from the pass to modern time. The chaopraya river is still the main river of culture, transportation and city dynamics. There are some particular districts that you can explore and notice the history and present of Bangkok inrelation to now a day life.

You can research on the topic/issue of your interested based on this specific route.

Proposing some creative project that aims to enhance the quality of aesthetics or dailylife of people arounds these areas.
